MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director for Support

SUBJECT : Weekly Report of the Office of Training

1. DLI Chinese Language Course Scores

OTR, FE Division and the Agency's eight language students are highly pleased with Defense Language Institute's Basic Chinese course which began last July. Six students will complete the course, one having been transferred and one resigned.

From an economic standpoint, cost for the course was approximately $9500 for all the students and materials. In comparison, the 44-week Basic Chinese course at the Foreign Service Institute carries a tuition charge of $3600 per student.

Chinese language beginning in August and September. Two of the five students are now studying in the Agency Language School; two are in the special course at DLI; [REDACTED] indicate that he has encountered neither hostility nor negative comments about the Agency from fellow students. Further, he asserts that the four Agency students have not even been subject to "needling" by other students, reportedly routine practice in past years.

The student also is impressed by the quality of Agency guest speakers -- in his opinion a shade above speakers from other government agencies. Particularly cited were the DCI's presentation, the panel of the Agency's four Deputy Directors chaired by Colonel White and talks by OSR Director Bruce Clarke and the FE deputy, [REDACTED]

Atomic Support Agency has offered virtually an unlimited number of slots to the Agency during FY 70 for the one-week Nuclear Weapons Orientation Advanced Course conducted at Sandia, New Mexico. The Agency's 88 slots for FY 69 were not completely filled, so only 80 spaces will be requested next year.

[REDACTED] training for 23 Air Force officers and non-coms is scheduled to begin [REDACTED] on 16 June. The training will be conducted by TSD instructors; the students will all be USAF/OSI personnel.

5. Non-Agency Briefings

During the reporting period, the following non-Agency briefings were given:

At Foreign Service Institute, to 85 members of the Area and Country Studies Program, on "Updating Sino-Soviet Relationships."

At FSI, to 77 students in Foreign Service Orientation, on "International Communism Today."
